A Best Practice: Resources for Our Time (Part XIV)

Since April, in addition to some of our themed issues and/or issues of specific best practices, there have been several GEMS issues which looked at some resources for this time. Many have been related to these times of COVID.

Now these issues (which probably come to you once a month – in the middle of the month) will continue to look at resources for these days of living in and through the pandemic as well as other resources for these times (which can be used in adult faith formation), such as:

- The up-coming liturgical season
- Catholic social teaching
- Formation for an anti-racist society
- Caring for our common home

“...listening will do more at the moment than anything else we can do.

Listening to those we love and serve. How are they feeling and reacting to increasing Covid concerns, the national political conversation and how it all affects them?

Listening to all the voices - even ones in direct opposition to our own beliefs. What is being said? What is perceived and understood by people? Where is there convergence? Where is there divergence?

Listening to experts and our wisdom figures. What is the past teaching us? What are the consequences or the future forecast for us?

Listening to our hearts. Where do I stand on things? How is my life a positive witness to others even when I don't have it all together? What is God pressing upon me to learn, hear, do, give or share?

Listening to God's Word. What scriptures are you drawn to right now? What have you heard, learned, run from or chosen to act on?

Listening for little opportunities to love, dialogue, share faith, teach, form, forgive, reconcile and offer mercy and receive mercy.

Loving God, Holy One,
Your desire is for our wholeness and well-being.
We hold in tenderness and prayer the collective suffering of our world at this time.

We grieve precious lives lost and vulnerable lives threatened.
We ache for ourselves and our neighbors, standing before an uncertain future.

We pray: May love, not fear, go viral.

Inspire our leaders to discern and choose wisely, aligned with the common good.

Reveal to us new and creative ways to come together in spirit and in solidarity.

Call us to profound trust in your faithful presence,
You, the God who does not abandon, You, the Holy One,
breathing within us,
breathing among us,
breathing around us
in our beautiful yet wounded world.

Adding New Luster to an Older GEMS

Several past issues have looked at the role of technology in ministry, in faith formation today. This article, Do Catholics need a new code of ethics for the digital age, is pertinent as we find ourselves now using technology more than ever.
